

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: October 19, 2010

Insurance Industry Executive Launches New Insurance Career Opportunity

Carlos Acosta, a successful insurance industry executive since 1988, has recently decided to greatly expand his business throughout the state of California with his new website, <http://www.eCaliforniaInsurance.org>

The website offers job opportunities in the insurance industry to people with or without insurance experience and allows them to work from their location, Carlos calls them “Virtual Agents”.

“I’ve enjoyed a great deal of success in my career, and it’s time that I share that success with other motivated, ambitious individuals,” Acosta explained.

What makes this opportunity so unique, is that talented and ambitious individuals can work from their locations or our office. Carlos offers renewal commissions as well, so each Virtual Agent has the ability to grow their own business without the expenses and overhead of a traditional insurance agency.

All Virtual Agents will obviously need to get their insurance license to participate.

Each Virtual Agent will receive a 30 day training salary, then go on a straight commission basis.

Those with experience in sales, insurance, or working with the public are encouraged to fill out the simple form on his website to get more information. They will receive free training, and also, lifetime residual income from any insurance sales that they make for Acosta’s new company.

However, this opportunity is only available in California, and applicants are encouraged to apply before we close phase 1 of the Virtual Agent opportunity.

“I know many people are looking for a job in this depressed economy, or they’re looking for an extra source of income,” Acosta explained. “And a lot of people these days would like to be able to work from their location so they can spend more time with their families.

There is a simple form on his website that can be used to fill out an application. Those seeking more information may visit his site, view a short video, and fill out the form available at <http://www.eCaliforniaInsurance.org>

Carlos Acosta 650-598-0396
support@carlosacosta.net